

Social Work & Health

international perspectives, challenges and development

15th May 2019

10:00 - 16:00

FH Bielefeld
Konferenzsaal

FH Bielefeld

University of Applied Sciences
Faculty of Social Sciences
Faculty of Business and Health
Interaktion 1 | D-33619 Bielefeld

The conference is part of the International Week at FH Bielefeld. Participation is free of charge and application.

<https://www.fh-bielefeld.de/internationales>

For more information please contact:
Dr. Anna Lena Rademaker
anna-lena.rademaker@fh-bielefeld.de

International Office
Your way abroad!

FH Bielefeld
University of Applied Sciences

PROGRAM

- 10:00 Welcome & Introduction
- 10:15 - Session I: Social Work & Health
- 11:30 Social Work and Health Services in England
Dr. John Crossland
German Health Promotion: Challenges for Social Work
Dr. Anna Lena Rademaker
- 12:00 - Session II: Elderly Care
- 13:30 Home First – an Elderly Team Intervention Project
Dr. Susan Sommerfeldt
LGBT*I Older Adults needing Long-term Care: The Relevance of Social Work and of Social Networks
Dr. Ralf Lottmann
- 14:00 - Session III: Self Care
- 15.30 Strengthening self management of children with addicted parents
Dr. Katja Makowsky
Social Media and Self-esteem: Influences on Mental Health & Social Work Solutions
Dr. Birte Schiffhauer
- 16:00 End of the Conference

SPEAKER

Dr. John Crossland

Senior Lecturer in Adult Social Care in the School of Health Sciences and Social Work at the University of Portsmouth in England. He teaches social work with adults and specialises in the relationship between policy, legislation, and social work practice. Current research interests: the impact of the Care Act 2014. Contact: john.crossland@port.ac.uk

Dr. Ralf Lottmann

Marie Skłodowska-Curie Fellow at the Department of Sociology, University of Surrey (GB). His research interests lie in sociology of ageing, long-term care and social inequalities. His Fellowship project focuses on 'Ageing & Diversity: LGBT* Housing and Long-term Care' (AgedLGBT*). Contact: r.lottmann@surrey.ac.uk

Dr. Susan Sommerfeldt

Teaches healthcare team development to students in health sciences programs at the University of Alberta in Edmonton. An Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Nursing, Susan's research includes inquiring the nature of healthcare teams in rural settings, interprofessional Senior's intervention teams, interprofessional education, and the conceptualization of team intelligence. Contact: ss13@ualberta.ca

Dr. Birte Schiffhauer

Lecturer for Special Assignments at the Faculty of Social Sciences at FH Bielefeld. Head of division for digitalization at ASB NRW e.V. (Arbeiter-Samariter-Bund NRW). Main research interests: social implications of digitalization/ social media, human factors, social neuroscience. Contact: birte.schiffhauer@fh-bielefeld.de

Dr. Katja Makowsky

Professor for Nursing at the Faculty of Business and Health, department Nursing and Health, FH Bielefeld. In her research she focusses on nursing-concepts and programmes to support vulnerable people, e.g. risk families with a mental health disorder and/or addiction. Contact: katja.makowsky@fh-bielefeld.de

Dr. Anna Lena Rademaker

Social Worker and Lecturer for Special Assignments at the Faculty of Social Sciences at FH Bielefeld. Half time, she is subject specialist for concepts and research projects at the German Professional Association for Social Work in Health Care (Deutsche Vereinigung für Soziale Arbeit im Gesundheitswesen DVSG; www.dvsg.org). Research interests in Social Work in Health, Health Promotion and Prevention and Clinical Social Work.

Contact: anna-lena.rademaker@fh-bielefeld.de